Poem Of Life

Life is but a stopping place,
A pause in what's to be,
A resting place along the road,
To sweet eternity.

We all have different journeys,
Different paths along the way,
We all were meant to learn some things,
But never meant to stay...

Our destination is a place,
Far greater than we know.
For some the journey's quicker,
For some the journey's slow.

And when the journey finally ends,
We'll claim a great reward,
And find an everlasting peace,
Together with the Lord.

Through carefully chosen words and vivid imagery, these poems evoke sensations that transcend the realm of the everyday, inviting readers to embark on an emotional rollercoaster. The melodic rhythm dances across the pages, while the carefully woven metaphors and similes hold the reader captive in a mesmerizing embrace. Each reading serves as an opportunity for reflection and introspection, reminding us of the fragility and fleeting nature of life.

Embracing the Journey of Self-Discovery

One For The Road Poetry For Living is more than a collection of verses – it is a companion on the voyage of self-discovery. The poet's words act as guiding stars, illuminating the paths that lead to self-realization and a deeper connection with the world around us.

From the second that you're in this world,
They tell you what is "fair",
The questions you're allowed to ask,
And the ones you wouldn't dare,
Placed on the path they've paved for you,
Life pushes you along,
Without the chance to stop and think,
If it's right where you belong,
But beyond your pathway's edges,
Is where living really starts,
A land of risks and danger,
And a land of broken hearts,
They'll tell you you should fear this land,
That there's no good there at all,
As they live their lives as they've been taught,
Behind expectation's wall,
But the best people you will ever meet,
Have wandered off their track,
Found themselves along the way,
And have no need to wander back,
So forget about life's road map,
Follow your heart at any cost,
For you'll never truly find yourself,
If you're too scared to get lost.

One for the Road reveals life lessons through the lens of youth and the perspective of adulthood. Poems span idyllic childhood summer days to the ravages of old age. You'll find laughter, tears, and most of all gratitude for the gift of life and love, the support of family and friends. It is a book best shared with others. These words and your own can create a better understanding of relationships among people. With that, I hope those who follow in our footsteps lead lives acknowledging the dignity and worth of each individual and live life compassionately.
